

In a million words or less...

Tell me about your son or daughter. This is officially your first homework assignment! This week is the first time I have ever met your son or daughter. You have most likely known them for over 13 years! I would love to find out more about my students through their parents' eyes. The one and only rule- it must be less than a million words. What are your child's strengths and weaknesses? What does your child enjoy? How do you think I can better help your child in the classroom? Tell me anything you would like. Once you complete this assignment, give it to your son or daughter and they will turn it in for you. This is an optional assignment and will not impact your son or daughter's grade in any way. Thanks so much and I look forward to reading your insights!

Sincerely,

Jackie Campbell

Feel free to email your responses to jlcampbell@hcpsnc.org

In a million words or less...

Tell me about your son or daughter. This is officially your first homework assignment! This week is the first time I have ever met your son or daughter. You have most likely known them for over 13 years! I would love to find out more about my students through their parents' eyes. The one and only rule- it must be less than a million words. What are your child's strengths and weaknesses? What does your child enjoy? How do you think I can better help your child in the classroom? Tell me anything you would like. Once you complete this assignment, give it to your son or daughter and they will turn it in for you. This is an optional assignment and will not impact your son or daughter's grade in any way. Thanks so much and I look forward to reading your insights!

Sincerely,

Jackie Campbell

Feel free to email your responses to jlcampbell@hcpsnc.org